What we do in Milam county and in Texas is pronounced throughout the Southland. Last year 1924, Mr. Lee tells us the South spent over One Billion Dollars for feed and food stuffs that could have been produced on Texas and Southern farms but which were crowded out by the mad desire for cotton. No people may be permanently prosperous without a diversity of crops on the farm.

We were told that in a recent normal year the egg and poultry receipts for Milam county amounted to $391,000. Dairy receipts amounted to $300,000. Both small in comparison to the average cotton yield but constituting a source of revenue from which more profits are had in proportion than the fleece white fields that year after year enslave the farmer and impoverish the land.

Mr. Lee by reason of his close study of farm conditions to which he is giving his time in an effort to encourage variety of crops, knows more about Milam county than the majority of our own people. In 1919 a normal feed crop year Milam county farmers spent $650,000 for feed that could have been produced on the farm. In that same year Falls, a neighboring county, spent more than a million dollars for feed. And this condition is persisting through each year rendering profits from the farm an absolute impossibility for with the cotton money we not only have to pay for costs of production and living expenses but we must spend every dollar beyond that for feed.

Texas with her vast acreage, climates and soil fertility, is producing a negligible quantity of the foods that supply the people. Texas farmers, we are told, spend about one half of their cotton money for feed for themselves and their farm animals, and the rest for costs of production leaving nothing for profit and with each succeeding year finding no prosperity from the basic industry.

But we take courage. Farmers are beginning to think as never before in the history of the country. They have at last found that after a hundred years of cotton the Southern half of the republic has improved but little the conditions of the farmer. They are finding with each succeeding year that the one crop system is runious and that the farmer with a diversity of crops, with something to sell each week of the year has money in the bank and is independent while the one crop farmer as an average, even though he possess many acres fares hard under the system. He has found, after many years of disasterous experience that ten acres may yield more than a hundred in profits.

We have discovered after a hundred years of painful toil that half the acreage now devoted to cotton may produce more than full acreage. What one farmer has done others will do. If twenty acres of cotton will produce twenty thousand pounds of lint no farmer should desire a hundred acres that will produce only 140 pounds to the acre.

R. Q. Lee is doing more for Texas agriculture than any man has done in all the history of the state.

How tax-free bonds increase the burden of taxpayers is set forth in a striking way by Julius H. Barnes, former Federal Grain Administrator. He puts it thus: 'A man worth over $50,000,000 died last year, it developed he had paid no federal income taxes since 1916, and legally so. Instead, he bought tax exempt bonds of his state and city, yielding four and one half per cent. But for this he would have contributed over $850,000 toward the expenses of his Federal Government. Federal expenses were not one dollar less because he did not pay. Who did pay the $850,000?

TRADES DAY PROGRAM ARRANGED FOR CAMERON

CAMERON MERCHANTS OFFER BIG LIST FIRST MONDAY BARGAINS.

Next Monday is Trades Day in Cameron.

For First Monday which is October 5 the merchants are offering special inducements to people to do their trading in Cameron on that day.

The first Monday has been revived by the Commercial Club and has been joined by the Retail Merchants Association.

The committee in charge of the program has arranged an attractive entertainment, it is said, and the day will be one of the best ever seen here.

One of the plans made is the effort to have Band music throughout the day. Last First Monday the band was taken to Minerva. It is hoped the band will be permitted to remain here all day and furnish music.

The announcement of Trades Day is made in both papers this week in the form a double page advertisement in which merchants have joined in a great bargain feast.

Come to Cameron next Monday and spend the day, purchase goods at low prices and enjoy the hospitality of the city.

P. PADDICK IS GIVEN A PRISON SENTENCE

SUSPENDED SENTENCE IN ONE CASE AND TWO YEARS IN PRISON IN ANOTHER.

P. Paddick was given two years in the penitentiary Thursday morning when he entered a plea of guilty to felony theft before a jury in District Court.

In pronouncing the sentence Judge John Watson in District Court said that a two year suspended sentence was given in the first case and two years confinement in the state prison in the second case. A third case will be dismissed.

The indictment on which Mr. Paddick was sentenced and to which he entered a plea of guilty was for the theft of cotton from the Compress in Cameron, alleged to have been taken by Paddick in August and November of 1924. When the sentence was pronounced a large number were in the court room.

Those who testified were D. J. Kubecka who said he had purchased cotton from Mr. Paddick under the name of Jones & Paddick and receipts were exhibited as well as canceled checks; Mr. Dossett and P. W. Davis of the Compress Company.

PROMOTION DAY AT FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

SUNDAY SCHOOL PUPILS GIVE PROGRAM FOR THAT DAY HERE.

In order to keep a Sunday school graded two things are necessary: to classify new pupils according to age, and to have an Annual Promotion Day. The latter was observed at the First Baptist Church Sunday morning.

The program was well rendered by the pupils from the Departments up to the Intermediate Department. To begin the program the Beginners Marched on the stage and sang "Jesus Loves Me." Then came the Primary Department and repeated from memory in unison "The Lord's Prayer" and "The Twenty-third Pslam," which is required of those who are promoted from this department to the Junior Department. The Juniors then rose and sang "Count Your Many Blessings," after which the Intermediates marched on the stage and sang "Joy in Serving Jesus." As closing number a member of one of the classes gave a synopsis of the work done by the class during the past year.

The program was enjoyed by all present, and showed in a small degree what the Sunday school is doing for our boys and girls.

The pastor preached to a large audience both morning and evening. Both services were Spiritual and very beneficial to all. At the close of the morning service the ordinance of Baptism was administered to the candidates present, and at the night service the Lord's Supper was observed.

The singing at all the services was good but we want to make it better. You who sing come to the Choir and praise the Lord with the voice He has given you. Also you who play instruments bring them and let us make a joyful noise unto the Lord our God.

KU KLUX WILLL HOLD BIG CEREMONIAL HERE

CEREMONIAL AND INITIATION SCHEDULED FOR OCTOBER 8 IS REPORT.

It is reported that the Cameron Klan will hold a cermonial and initiation here on October 8.

It is reproted that the ceremonial will be held in the base ball park located in the city limits where ample grand stand room is had and the park fenced in.

The ceremonial if after the style of recent meetings held by the Ku Klux in Temple, Waco and other sections of the state, will be a ceremonial with the members unmasked. Advertisements in newspapers hearlded the events as "The Klan Unmasked."

It has been customery at these events to publicly read the oath and obligations taken by the Klansmen. It is presumed this will be done in Cameron.

The public is to be invited, it is said. With the announcement of the celebration it is recalled that this will be the first public activity of the Klan since the initiation held in 1923. For several months no firey cross has burned in Cameron but it is presumed the ceremonies will be topped with a firey cross on October 8.

The Klansmen will have to appear in the ceremonial without their masks as the recent state law passed prohibits masking in public under a penalty of imprisonment.

Miss Pauline Green of Cameron, who has been visiting at the Delta Delta Delta house, returned home yesterday. She is the daughter of A. N. Green, president of the First National bank of Cameron and of the State Bank at Ben Arnold. Miss Green attended the university for two terms in 1923-24, and then left for threemonths' work in Columbia university, New York. She attended the university again last year, and probably will re-enter after Christmas.

F. E. JACKSON ELECTED PRESIDENT OF CLUB

GILES L. AVRIETT ELECTED VICE PRESIDENT AND B. F. BONDS TREASURER.

F. E. Jackson was re-elected president of the Commercial Club at the semi-annual meeting on Monday night. No other nominations were made and Mr. Jackson was elected by acclamation.

For Vice President Giles L. Avriett was elected by acclamation as was B. F. Bonds for treasurer.

Mr. Bonds succeeds Vernon Roberts as treasurer and Mr. Avriett succeeds himself as vice president.

Following the election of these officers twelve directors were chosen to serve the club for the ensuing term.

Mr. Jackson as president has been very active in the service of the club and has shown great public spirit. One of the many acts of importance by the club is the trade trips being made to various portions of the county at this time.

The club has sponsored a trades day and will have a poultry show on November 21.

The club also was instrumental in 1924 under the leadership of Mr. Jackson in organizing and promoting the Cameron Country Club.

On next Monday night the club directors will meet and elect Paul Webb secretary to succeed himself. So far as known there are no other applicants for the place and Mr. Webb has served the club well in this capacity.

Gause Entertains Commercial Club

The people of Gause were hosts to the Cameron Commercial Club on Wednesday night and served a turkey dinner for the visitors with all the accessories, including brick ice cream and cake. The dinner was served in the Odd Fellows Hall and later a band concert and speaking was held in the school building.

Those who spoke were Paul Webb, J. C. Martin, F. B. Cable, F. E. Jackson, W. O. Newton and O. M. Smith.

J. H. Thomas delivered the address of welcome. It was the best attended meeting of the year and the club envoys are loud in their praise for the hospitality of Gause.

Snowdrift Finds A Big Demand Here

In the recent issues of the Herald advertisements for Snowdrift the famous cooking grease manufactured by the Southern Cotton Oil Company have been made.

This advertising is placed with the Herald through Calkins & Holden of New York.

Housewives are being attracted to this wonderful product by these announcements and a large consumption will result following this advertising here.

Hundreds Attend Big J. D. Bobbins Sale

Big crowds were in the J. D. Dobbins dry goods store on Wednesday and Thursday, the first two days of the sale. At the opening hour Wednesday, at 9:30 a. m. the crowd blocked the sidewalk for nearly half a block and overflowed into the street.

For several hours following the opening of the store the store was crowded to capacity and goods were sold rapidly. Many extra clerks were on hand to wait on the crowds and all were busy according to Mr. Dobbins.

The sale is to continue 15 days and is a $40,000 cash raising event.

There is no place quite so attractive as Cameron at this time for economical buying.

Moulton Cobb of the Cameron Enterprise is in Austin to complete his course of the University of Texas this year.

PERKINS TO PIT MEN AGAINST FAST SQUAD

MANY EXPECTED TO GO TO WACO FRIDAY FOR GAME IN AFTERNOON.

Coach Perkins will send the Yoemen to the gridiron against Waco Friday afternoon at Waco.

This game will be a preliminary conference game. On last Monday the Yoemen played Temple holding them to a scoreless tie.

Some apprehension was felt for the success of the Yoeman against Waco but now that the showing has been made with Temple with a team crippled by removal of some of the best men who were declared ineligible, grid followers here believe the Yoemen will show up well against the big town squad.

American Legion to Stage Big Armistice Celebration Here

A call has been issued for a meeting of the American Legion on the next Tuesday night in the hall at Cameron. This meeting is called for the purpose of arranging the Armistice Day program for Cameron on November 11 and to go over plans for the annual membership drive.

Delegates to the recent state convention will be on hand to make their reports. New members are expected to be taken in that night. All members are urged to attend.

TWO YEARS ARE GIVEN FOR MAN SLAUGHTER

NEGRO SENTENCED TO PRISON FOR KILLING ANOTHER NEAR GAUSE

Bob Bailey, negro, was given two years in the penitentiary for manslaughter in district court Wednesday, for the killing of O. C. Green, negro, last August near Gause.

P. Paddick charged by indictment in three cases for felony theft entered a plea of guilty Thursday morning and was sentenced to two years confinement in one case, given a suspended sentence in another and the third was dismissed.

The case of R. B. Brady for felony theft is set down for October 8. The cases of Henry Overton, liquor; Floyd Allen, Finis Catchings, Stroud Harris and Ernest Hess all for manufacturing liquor; and T. Oliver for manufacturing liquor have been set down for October 5.

Klawansky Unloading Event is Big Success

W. Klawansky who on last week began a $30,000 cash raising event at his dry goods store reports splendid business for the first few days of the event. The unloading sale is to continue for some time. While the store was closed on last Saturday and on the previous Friday and Monday on account of the Jewish holidays, the sales have been extra good, according to Mr. Klawansky.

The bargains at this store are in keeping with other years when goods could be bought much cheaper and it looks like the old times are back.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hollingsworth of San Jose, California, after a twenty five years absence from Texas are in Cameron to visit Mr. Hollingsworth's aunt Mrs. N. H. Butts and and other relatives in this vicinity. They will go to Temple Friday and later return to California by the Northern route. Mr. Hollingsworth is the son of Jake Hollingsworth and has been for some years in the employ of the Southern Pacific Railway Company. Mr. and Mrs. Hollingsworth made the trip to Cameron the Southern route.

OLD LETTER REVEALS HISTORY OTHER DAYS

MAJOR BEAN ONE OF OUR RICH CHARACTERS AMONG EARLY CITIZENS IN CAMERON.

History and many things of interest are often found in letters written years ago and here the Herald has found one of interest to the older citizens of Cameron who will recall Maj. E. M. Bean, one time treasurer of Milamm county.

This letter was written by Judge Ed. F. English. It is in his characteristic style of composition, polished and deep in meaning. How much we need the kind of religion practiced by these men, one of whom is now dead, can be measured by the failure of modern sympathy to comprehend the needs of those who are in distress.

Major Bean will be remembered by the older citizens here. He was the father of Mrs. Charles Caldwell and the Grandfather of Miss Juanita Caldwell. An old Virginian, he came to Cameron before the civil war and went with the company of the late Major Rogers and Hood's Brigade straight to the army of Virginia where the took part in all the major engagements about Richmond. He was wounded, losing his right arm at Gettysburg.

Thomas Bigbee and Alex Huffman, Confederates, now dead, said that there was no more gallant soldier in the great army of Virginia than Major Bean. After the war he came back to Milam county and taught school in the Eastern part of the county and was later elected county treasurer. Years later in 1909 he went to Oklahoma and settled at Davis.

As the date of the letter will indicate Major Bean became ill in 1910 and from this illness never completely recovered:

March 22, 1910.

Major E. M. Bean,
Davis, Oklahoma.
Dear Old Friend:

Through Mrs. India Stidham, in a letter to her father, I incidently heard from you a few days ago. I was sorry to hear of your ill health; but trust that with the coming of spring and the roses, you will resume your wonted health. I shall not undertake to write you this letter with a pen, but shall resort to my sewing machine, which will be satisfactory I know to you. We have no political news, that is, that would be news to you for I am sure you continue to read the Dallas News, which will keep you fully posted. The political guns at Austin are unclimbering for final action; and ere many moons, there will be something doing in Texas. We have a full quota of County candidates in the field. I believe Judge Watson and Bob Wiley are the only two which have no opponents. For tax collector, Will Ross, Porter Stevens, Henry Moore and John Joynes, the cotton buyer, are the candidates. For Bill Nabours place, who is not a candidate for reelection, Capt. Wolf, John Bell, Will Gilliland, Jim Chamberlin and Jim Pate. For Sheriff, Holtzclaw, Hooks, Todd and Charlie Williams. For County Clrek, Jeff Kemp and John Poteet. I am for Gen. R. V. Davidson for Governor, after a careful survey of the field, I verily believe that he more fully comprehends the needs of Texas, and would be more devoted to her interest than any man in the field. The race here is between Davidson and Colquitt. The Anti-Bailey Pro. has about concluded that the issue is Baileyism instead of State wide Prohibition; but we shall see what we see.

Cameron is making some progress, we have two or three new commercial enterprises, besides they have elected Ben Strum mayor, and already have a complete system of street lights, with some additional sewerage, for which we are indebted to him for his service as alderman. His election was a surprise to a great many people, but he was petitioned by a hundred and fifty of the citizens of Cameron to make the race, which resulted in his election.

I have begun to realize Major, that I am growing old notwithstanding the fact that I do not notice any marked evidences of physical decline, still I am reminded that all of us, who figured in the 60's must sooner or later pay the debt, which we all owe, and I am making a daily struggle to do all the good I can, and little harm, and at the same time cheerfully accept the situation; without playing to the galleries, or making any big demonstrations. I am trying to practice the religion of Christ, which is a religion of love and sympathy for my fellow man, and practice as much as possible the golden rule. Do you know that some of the most eloquent sermons that I have ever heard, have been preached by you, by little kindly acts of cheer and sympathy to those in need, and do you know that the world is suffering more for human sympthy than all the gold of Ophir, but sympathy without the act is of no avail; but sympathy with the means of relieving the wants and necessities of those in distress.

Last Saturday evening as I sat in my office, talking to a number of friends, a bright little boy about six or seven years old, came in and said please Sir, help, and before he could finish the sentence, I stopped him, as I had seen him mingle with the crowd on the street, and supposed him to be a professional beggar. I noticed something in his hand wrapped in a paper, and I begun to lecture him, which consisted of some cold, cheerless advice, and the little fellow burst into tears, which was a sermon to me that I shall never forget. It is needless to say that I bought all the little fellow's penscils, and gave them back to him, and commended him for his manly effort to drive the wolf from his mother's door.

But in this life, trouble comes to all, sometimes in great surging billows that beat and break, double and dash upon the shore line of our lives, until it is more than human can bear, and but for the conscienceness that a kind and sympathizing Christ is ready to take us in his arms, with all of our frailties and short comings, is an apt demonstration of the love and sympathy, He preached.

I have written this letter under very embarssing circumstances, where the crowd was coming and going.

Regards to Charlie and family, Dick Stedman and Mrs. Stidham, and with best wishes for you, and hope of your speedy recovery, I am as foretime,

Your friend,

ED. F. ENGLISH.

LEGION COMMANDER IS CALLING FOR MEMBERS

25,000 PAID UP MEMBERS SOUGHT TO PAY OFF TEXAS DEPARTMENT DEBT.

The following appeal has been received from State Commander Dunning of Gonzales, urging membership drive for the American Legion.

A call meeting for Edwin Hardy Post No. 9 has been issued by the post commander for Tuesday night October 6:

To Division Commanders, Executive Committeemen, Post Commanders, Adjutants and Legionnaires of Texas, Department, American Legion:

1. We must absolutely secure 25,000 members paid up for year 1926, in order to liquidate Legion Indebtedness as the Honor Bonds fall due Nov. 11, 1926.

The security and maturity of the bonds depends upon the result of the membership increase.

2. If you are proud of the honor of being a Legionnaire show it by packing your part of the load by securing additional eligible members for your local post; by holding PEP meetings and putting over a membership drive.

2. As your department Commander I urge unity of action and co-operation upon the part of all Officials and Legionnaires; for without your individual assistance we can not succeed or accomplish anything. Don't say; "Let George Do It," for it is too large a job for him alone. Don't be a slacker in the Legion ranks for you did not slack when the Slogan was: "Heaven, Hell or Hoboken" by Xmas back in 1918. Why be a slacker now when the slogan is 25,000 members for 1926.

4. I suggest you hold district conventions put on a membership contest drive by percentage according to population between Posts in the district.

5. Get rid of all dead timber as officials of posts. Grease up the old rifle and secure a sufficient supply of ammunition so that you may secure all elegible members in Texas.

6. Hold Armistic Day celebrations and bring the collection of due for 1926; the membership campaign starts on this date and the objective is 25,000. Lets jump off with some energy and put Texas out of the disgraceful position of 43rd, in membership in the Legion in the United States.

7. Is there any Veteran of the World War so dead in spirit and patriotism that he is not proud of the part he played in the greatest of all Military struggles since history began.

8. Are you Veterans void of a justified pride in your service? You would resent an assertion that you veterans had not done your part.

9. The Legion offers you Buddy an opportunity to testify to the World your loyalty and service during the War.

10. Your Legion Button shows to the World you served your country in time of peril and shows you to be an active participant in the work of the Legion; which is dedicated to the preservation of American Principles.

11. The Button shows you to be both a War-time and Peace-time patriot and a true American.

12. Remember it is far better to be in the Legion than to explain why you are not. Be one of the Active Legionnaires of your community, snap into it and help put over the increased membership in Texas.

13. The question of growth of membership can only be settled by getting the Legionnaires to go out and sell the Legion contract and the objective 25,000 members can only be secured by a thorough canvass.

14. See that all Legionnaires receive this appeal and start the membership offensive on Nov. 11th, and with proper contact the objective will be reached.

Further information will be sent out to you as soon as headquarters are moved to Austin, Texas, and the new adjutant takes charge.

Yours for the Legion,
W. T. DUNNING,
Commander.

Chevrolet Company Sets Another Record

The Chevrolet Motor company has added another record to the series of sales and production marks established this year.

The new record is represented by the deliveries to Chevrolet dealers during August. A final check of August deliveries places the figure at 41,500 a larger number of cars than the company ever has placed with its dealers during any preceding August.

The August deliveries even exceeded those made during either June or July of this year.

The achievement of the Chevrolet Motor company, the first manufacturer of selective gear shift automobiles to attain that figure.

Maintenance of deliveries through the summer months is cited by R. H. Grant, general sales manager of the Chevrolet Motor company, as endorsement of his statement made several months ago that the automotive industry is approaching a more stable and uniform basis.

"Eventually automobile production will be nearly uniform throughout the year," he said. "The seasonable peaks and valleys of production are being flattened out."

SUMMER COMPLAINT AMONG CHILDREN

There seems to be an epidemic of ummer complaint or dysentery among children and grown people around Cameron this summer. If you or your children suffer from this trouble, we will sell you a bottle of Baby Tone n a guarantee. This is different from the ordinary treatment as it neutralizes the acid condition of the stomach and bowels. Contains Bismuth which is an intestinal antiseptic also Pepsin which acts as an aid to digestion, thus assisting nature to restore the stomach and intestines to a normal con- easily given to children.

THE INTELLIGENT YOUNG PEOPLE.

Henry Ford, in an interview given the press some days ago, expressed the idea that the young generation was the "greatest ever," because it is intelligent.

Mr. Ford is a cheerful optimist, and many will say that he overlooks the alleged errors of the young crowd. Many old timers, with their strong belief in the education of the Little Red Schoolhouse, will not believe that the youngsters have anything like the good mental drill that used to be given.

But even the old timers must admit there is at least one respect in which the more modern education is far superior.

The old schools placed very great stress on memory work. If a pupil could recite a lesson through like a parrot in the words of the text book, he could get by and frequently take high rank. But such ones were not able to think, and if they got off the track in their memorized recitations, they might be completely upset.

The modern school expects its children to show some ability to think and express their own ideas. This is why, when you come in contact with these young folks, they seem so keen. Middle aged people who attempt to teach a Sunday school class, or take the boys or girls out on hikes or camping trips, are often impressed with the mental quickness of these youngsters. Their minds have become original centers of activity.

That activity is not always usefully expressed. It makes them restless, dissatisfied if they have to settle down to routine tasks. They must have excitement and something doing. Many of them get so occupied with superficial things, that their intelligence never goes below the surface. But they have great possibilities of improved citizenship, if means can be found to turn this intelligence into substantial channels, and get it to working in the problems of the community.

THE ELOPING HABIT.

The number of young people who go away from their homes to get married, and never notify their parents until after the thing has happened, seems to be increasing. Then when this great step is taken, they expect to be received with open arms and tears for forgiveness, and to have everything just the same as if they had not done it.

Considering all that has been done for these young people, it seems quite thoughtless, not to say ungrateful, for them to proceed on this step of such vast importance without at least consulting with their families. In many cases they need advice as to the choice they are making.

Some may of course do this thing out of a desire to avoid the fuss and cost of a wedding. But in that case, they can arrange the affair just as well in a quiet way, have a simple home wedding, or go to the minister's without any elaboration, and yet talk it all over with their parents before taking this decisive step.

Probably the reason that actuates many of these young folks, is the fear that the older people are going to raise objections. The young people dislike scenes and arguments. They may feel an uneasy sentiment of conscience that they ought not to take such a step in this way. They are perhaps inwardly fearful that if they communicate this purpose to the family, arguments and entreaties would be offered in such a moving form that their resolution would be shaken. To avoid all that ordeal, they decide to quietly slip off and do the deed and get the forgiveness afterward.

It hurts many parents pretty badly when such a thing happens. After all the benefits these young people have received, it is up to them to be very kind and considerate to those who have showered these blessings on them.

MAKE "FIRE PREVENTION" NATIONAL SLOGAN.

The United States destroys more than five times as much property by fire as do European countries, to say nothing of the thousands of lives snuffed out annually. European countries have laws dating back to the Code of Napoleon making the tenant or owner of a building liable for fires caused by negligence.

W. E. Mallalieu, General Manager of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, who has returned from an extensive study of fire insurance problems in Europe, observes:

"Perhaps in order to reduce losses on this continent to a less reprehensible figure, it may become necessary to supplement the extensive fire prevention work of fire insurance companies, co-operating with many civic bodies, by the widespread enactment and enforcement of personal liability acts, such as already exist in some of our cities. If the man who caused fire by his carelessness or negligence were looked upon, not as an unfortunate, but as one guilty of misdemeanor and subjected to a fine, as he is under the Napoleonic law, doubtless we would all be more heedful."

Fire Prevention Week will be observed nationally from October 7 to 10. It is safe to predict that there will be fewer fires during this week than normally. Instead of dropping back into our old habit of "fire carelessness," at the end of the week, why not continue fire prevention as a national habit?

KEEPS THE HOME FIRES BURNING.

Radio has become almost a household requisite. Nothing has done more to promote the home-loving instinct than the ever growing popularity of this great pleasure-giving and educational invention.

From this one may fairly reason that wherever the installing of radio sets is on the increase the home-loving instinct is certainly not on the wane. And, since the broadcast program is essentially a thing to be enjoyed by the family circle, it is to the family circle the radio will cater.

Seldon has the human demand for novel entertainment found so admirable a combination. As the call for more radio service grows, so also grows the attraction of the home. And as the attraction of the home becomes stronger, so the call for better broadcast programs becomes more insistent.

Everything tends to make the radio influence a wellspring of good. So excellent a caterer to all that is most desirable in promoting true human happiness certainly deserves the very best of the public to whom it ministers.

THE CITIZEN'S ATTITUDE.

The people of a town or city may roughly be divided into two classes, with respect to their mental attitude toward their home communities.

Class 1 takes an attitude something like this: "We came to this town," they say, "because we got a job here, or we were born here and are staying on because we have work here. We are able to earn money here to support our families so we shall stay as long as we can do that. We have no special interest in this town apart from that. If a better job should turn up somewhere else, we could leave without a particle of regret, except for the bother of moving our stuff."

There are millions of people who have as little attachment to their home places as that. The presence of this large element of indifference explains why many communities never make any civic advance. One set of such loosely attached people move on and are succeeded by a new bunch having the same point of view. There is no accumulation of service or constructive effort to build up those towns.

Class 2 says something like this: "We stay here in this community, not merely because we have found work to do here, but because we love the scenes of this good home town. We believe it is as good a town as there is anywhere, we have made many friends here from whom we would hate to part. If we had a better chance in business elsewhere, we might perhaps move. But we would part with regret, and it would have to be a good deal better to make it worth going."

A town with many people of Class 1 is not going ahead fast, but one with a lot of Class 2 people is going to be a little better place for residence and business every year.

CITY AND COUNTRY.

Some years ago city people used to ridicule country people, and country people felt jealous of city dwellers. While much of this exchange of sentiment was fairly good natured, yet it often went so far as to create antagonisms that destroyed all co-operation.

Today, the cities and the country regions are discovering that they are interdependent. It is as absurd for city and country to quarrel, as for a merchant to quarrel with his customers, or for a business man to quarrel with his help.

The time is fast coming when a city and the country around it will be considered an indivisible unit, with indentical interests. The city will work actively for rural prosperity to increase its own business, and the rural people will work for the advance of their center to provide stronger support for their enterprises.

THE CITY MACHINE.

F. C. Howe, an authority on municipal problems, remarks that a city is "a machine of machines." Thereby he expressed the thought, that as people congregate in cities and towns, their welfare depends upon a complicated mechanism of habits and regulations and activities.

As this system becomes more complex, it provides many advantages. But like any elaborate machine, the danger of getting out of order increases. The effect when people won't take an interest in their local government and civic movements, when they won't support home enterprises, is about the same as when a machine is not supplied with oil and when its bearings are allowed to wear out.

If we want the blessings of a city or town system, we must take care of this complicated mechanism, and remember that it can only run as it is driven by human energy supplied by the mass of the people.

In the matter of Tax Reductions the People are in no Mood to be Trifled with. Tax Burdens are Heavy and the People are in Active Concord with the President or anyone else in an effort to Provide Relief. Not a dollar should be taken from the people by taxation above what is needed for an honest and economical administration of Public Affairs.

RECEPTION FOR BRIDE.

An outstanding hospitality on the social calendar for Wednesday was the reception given by Mesdames George Childress and R. H. McIntosh in the beautiful McIntosh home on North Central Avenue, which honored a charming and radiant bride Mrs. Geo. Childress, Jr.

Receiving the cards at the portals were a tiny bride and groom, the dainty little Miss Elizabeth Sprott and the gallant little John S. Burns.

Queen's wreath, kare roses and mammoth pink zinnias added charming touches to the reception suite. An ice course was served in the dining room by Misses Maurine Clinton, Lou Davis, Evelyn Ashworth and Clara Thomas. Here festoons of the queen's wreath and pink radiance roses graced the lace spread board and were gracefully clustered on serving tables and buffet.

Little Misses Katharine McIntosh and Jane Tyson served pink and white confections.

Souvenirs were tiny doll brides.

A program of music was contributed during the receiving hours by Miss Lucile Dickard, Mesdames R. P. Jeter, J. L. Clinton and T. A. Fisher.

In the receiving line were Mesdames George F. Childress, the bride Mrs. George Childress, Jr., Mrs. Delbert Childress of Giddings, Mrs. Alex Triggs and Mrs. C. W. Peyton.

EPWORTH LEAGUE RALLY DAY SUNDAY OCTOBER 4.

Service at 6:30 p. m. Methodist church.

Next Sunday has been set aside by the Senior Epworth League as a day of special effort in enlisting the interest of the entire Church in the Epworth League and in the youth of the Church.

Time will ge given during the Sunday School hour and at the morning church service to speakers who will bring the importance and value of League activities to the mind of those in attendance.

The object is not to have a big "splurge" and to arouse any temporary enthusiasm and interest but that the people may come to know more about the work of the League. That more of our young people may become active members and that the older people may become more impressed with the importance of training our youth for the time when they shall assume the responsibilities of church leadership.

The Epworth League has been spoked of by some people as "just an excuse for young people to get together." Even if that were so they could not find a better place to be together. But our young people's societies are far more than that. They are schools for character building. Not any other organization can take their place. Those who take advantage of the Epworth League will develop unselfishness through the work of the social service department and spiritually through the devotional service, and they will develop socially under the influence of wholesome recreation and they will become bigger thinkers because of their study of world conditions under the leadership of the missionary superintendent. They have also an opportunity to discover their talents, to become leaders and to become doers. No young person can fail to grow who becomes active in Epworth League work.

The leaders extend to all young people of the town, who are not members of some young people's society, an invitation to attend the Epworth League next Sunday and be convinced.

WOMAN'S MISSION UNION.

The Woman"s Mission Union met in four circle groups on Monday for the monthly study of an assigned lesson in the Baptist Standard.

Circle one with thirteen present met in the home of Mrs. T. S. Henderson. Mrs. Elbert Martin led the devotional and the hostess led the lesson.

Circle two met with Mrs. S. M. Burns, Jr. Nine members were present and Mrs. F. J. Beckerman was the leader.

Circle three met with Mrs. W. H. Henley. Nine were present and the lesson was led by the hostess.

Circle four met with Miss Mabel Jeter. Nine were present. Miss Clara Thomas led the lesson.

A social half hour followed each meeting.

Next Monday a business session of the W. M. U. will be held in the Baptist church.

LOYAL WOMAN'S COUNCIL.

Mrs. Ray Burke was hostess to members of the Loyal Woman's Council on Monday. Mrs. W. H. Tucker led Bible Study.

A resolution was passed expressing the profound gratitude of the Council to the Methodist and Baptist churches and Christian people of Cameron of the several congregations who co-operated so splendidly to make the meeting held at the Methodist church such a splendid success, resulting in fifteen additions to the Christian church.

Great gratification was expressed that the congregation of the christian church will soon have a place to worship in Cameron. Excavation is being done rapidly and builders will soon be at work.

METHODIST CHURCH.

Promotion day exercises were a success, and the children were happy to take a step up higher in the Sunday School. Now don't forget that Rally Day is in the near future.

On Sunday morning the pastor will preach at both hours and at the eleven o'clock hour, will administer the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper.

Lest you forget, will state that every Wednesday night, we are engaged in a real "live wire" prayer meeting.

The Superannuate Endowment money is being paid in. Have you paid yours? Have you told the pastor that you will help in this worthy cause? Don't neglect the old retired preachers, their widows and orphans. Better lay up some of your treasure where moth and rust will not corrupt. Money invested for them will bring great returns for you.

COMMERCIAL CLUB HOLDS WEEKLY MEETING

With President C. Saller presiding and Smith Summerlin at the secretary's desk, the regular weekly meeting of the Thorndale Commercial Club was held in the directors room of the Thorndale State Bank last Thursday evening, the following directors answering the roll call— Clement, Heintze, Elliott, Butts, Ross, Moerbe and Norris.

Through their local agent Mr. D. R. Maddox, officials of the I. G.-N. Railroad requested the co-operation of the club directors, its members and the citizenship generally, to discontinue the use of their right of way, below the Oil Mill, as a dumping ground, and in co-operation with the railroad company, Director Moerbe has erected signs asking at this place the people to discontinue dumping of their refuse at this point. Permission was granted to the town by the commissioners court sometime ago to use the land immediatly to the right of the road before the approach of the Brushy bridge on the Thorndale-Rockdale highway to be used for this purpose and the citizenship generally is requested to co-operate with the club and the railroad company to bring about this change of dumping grounds.

Director Ross was instructed to send an analysis of the Thorndale Sulphur well water to A. & M. college with the view of determining whether or not this water could be utilized for commercial and domestic purposes. In the event the analysis of the water proves to be wholesome, further steps may be taken by the club to interest parties with sufficent capital to get this water piped into Thorndale, a distance of about three fourths of a mile, where it will settle a long and much discussed town need.

As a representtive of the Thorndale Band, Director Moerbe asked the cooperation of the Club in a financial way to help defray some of the expenses, and Director Ross was appointed to circulate a petition among the business hen soliciting funds for this worthy organization.

The directors also decided to have suitable signs erected at cross roads in the Thorndale trade territory and the publicity and advertising director was instructed to have these made and erected at points most beneficial to Thorndale and the tourists, which will not only serve as a guide to tourists but will materially aid in keeping Thorndale foremost in the minds of the traveling public generally.

Efforts are being made by the club to have several street lights in Thorndale to light up the business section at night, and plans are being worked out whereby the expense will be very little. Several business firms have already endorsed the plan and shown a willingness to co-operate toward an end to bring about this enterprising thing on the part of the club. The I. G.-N. Railroad Company have been asked to have a light placed at the main street crossing.

Dr. C. E. Wisecup, director of the Thorndale Band announces another concert to be given on the streets of Thorndale on the second Thursday night in October, the same being Oct. 8. This is also the regular monthly meeting date of the membership of the Thorndale Commercial Club and a full attendance of the membership is desired. The Club meeting will be held early in the evening in order to complete the routine of business before the concert. —Thorndale Champion.

NIGHT PROWLER ROBS CAR OF GASOLINE

Mr. Bill McQueen says he took a shot at someone at his home Tuesday night while they were making their escape from his premisis but is not sure that he hit the would-be robber of his car. Mrs. McQueen called her husband to see what one of the children wanted and about the time he got his eyes open he saw a flickering light under the shed where his car was parked. He hurriedly got his gun and began to investigate but before he could get far enough to get a good view of the person at his car the fellow was making his get-away and he took a shot at the intruder. He missed about four gallons of gas and found that the air in one of the tires on the car had been released, indicative of an intent to rob the car of the tire. No clue of the attempted robbery is available so far. —Thorndale Chompion.

THORNDALE IS BACKING THE BAND FINANCIALLY

Mr. Henry Ross, chairman of the committee on entertainments of the Commercial Club, at the request of the club circulated a petition for subscriptions for a fund for the relief of the Thorndale Band and secured $23.50 to apply on the indebtedness of the band. The money was turned over to the club secretary, Smith Summerlin and it will be used by the local band to help it pay the obligation Dr. C. E. Wisecup who has served as director for the past few months and with whose help the band has been able to develope into one of the best organizations of its size in this portion of the state. The band was behind with the instructor and this financial relief will put the organization about out of debt and those contributing to the fund are to be commended for their help in this matter and the club should have fuil credit for its manifest interest in the band of which the community is justly proud.—Thorndale Champion.

New Radio Station Broadcast Program Monday October 5

Monday night, October 5, beginning 7 o'clock central standard time and continuing till 2 a. m. or longer, radio fans throughout the country will hear a new voice in the air, that of radio Station WSM, the New Super Power Western Electric plant of the National Life & Accident Insurance Company, Inc., Nashville, Tennessee.

WSM will operate on a wave length of 282.8 meters, and its transmitter will be of the latest improved by the Atlanta Journal, Station WSB Atlanta Ga., and station WWJ, the Detroit News, Deroit, Michigan.

On the night the Nashville station is dedicated to the service of Tenn., the South, and America, an entertainment program of gigantic proportions will be presented, featuring scores of the city's leading musicians, public celebrities, radio notables and prominent citizens.

One of the principal features of the formal opening, will be the presence of several of radio's most famous Announcers. Chief among these will be Lambdin Kay, "The Little Colonel," of the Voice of the South, Station WSB, Atlanta, Ga., George D. Hay, the "Solomn Old Judge" of WLS, the Sears-Roebuck station in Chicago, Illinois; Leo Fitzpatrick, formerly of WDAF, the "Kansas City Star Night Hawks," now of WJR, the new Jewett station in Detroit, Michigan and other celebrated radio personalities.

The National Life & Accident Insurance Co., one of the largest and most progressive in the country, is giving Nashville a mouthpiece, by which the world will learn of the city referred to as "The Athens of the South," because of its great educational institutions. In the very beginning the cooperation and endorsement of civic, religious, educational and musical institutions has been assured the new station, by reason of which it should enjoy an unusually successful life from the start.

Tennessee's largest broadcasting sation will be unique in that it will have at its helm, one of the few women executives in America. Miss Bonnie Branhardt, former staff artist, program director, bedtime story teller and editorial writer, of WSB, the Atlanta Journal, will fill the responsibile post of program director-Radio editor of the National's new plant.

Jack Keefe, the only living personification of Ring Lardner's celebrated character, and one of Nashville's most popular citizens, will fill the role of announcer and studio director, while the techical positions will be ably occuiped by Thomas L. Parkes resident engineer and John DeWitt, Jr., operator. Mr. Parks will live on the premises of the great towers which are located about two miles from the heart of the town on an especially selected site, and Mr. DeWitt will be in charge of the speech in-put system located at the studio proper in the National's Home Building.

A richly furnished studio comparing favorably with any in America, has been equipped for the artist. Magnificent wine-colored draperies cover the walls and ceiling, and from the center of the latter is suspended a lovely, great, crystal chandelier. A beautiful Steinway piano graces the studio and floor lamps tastefully placed add a crowning touch of harmony to the whole ensembly.

WSM's call letters symbolize the company's slogan, 'We shield millions' and the National Life and Accident Insurance Company is the first insurance firm in Dixie to install a broadcasting station, and one of the very few in the country.

Some of the featured attractions on the mammoth inaugural program include, musicans from the well-known Ward-Belmont School, Peabody College; representatives of leading clubs of Nashville; the most prominant individual musicians in the city, and the famous Fisk Jubilee Singers. October 5, will be history making not only for Nashville but for the entire radio world.

A good start is half the cake

Of course you have to be a good cook to make good cake, but with good materials it's easy to be a good cook.

For instance, a good shortening like SNOWDRIFT is a big help in making good cake. It is much easier to cream SNOWDRIFT in with the other ingredients because it is so creamy itself. SNOWDRIFT is so delicate it makes your cake rich without changing the flavor. There just couldn't be anything nicer for making cake.

YOEMEN HOLD WILDCATS TO SCORELESS TIE IN GREAT GRID BATTLE HERE FRIDAY

The Fighting Yoemen—Cameron's Grid Offering for 1925 under Coach Perkins Friday afternoon held the Temple Wilcats to a scoreless tie on the local field, playing a remarkable game under great difficulty, but without parallel in all the history of Yoe athletics.

With at least four of the star men disqualified by the School Board, the Yoemen went on the field with inexperienced youngsters with few exceptions. Neither team could score. Each goal post was threatened but each time some twist of fate sent the invaders back.

The greatest moment of the game came in the last minute of play when Chilress the great half received a forward pass on Cameron's 45 yard line and raced around left end and to withing 10 yards of the Temple Coal Line for the greatest gain of the game and was downed when in striking distance of the goal.

While interesting to the last whistle the game was naturally slow due to the poor condition of the local gridiron, and both teams showed lack of training—costly fumbles and penalties having marred the contest from the beginning.

The Yoe high eleven was composed mostly of inexperienced youngsters on account of five of the regular players having been declared scholastically ineligible, but they fought hard and were in fine physical condition as the eleven men who started played the entire contest. Childress, team captain was their big show on the offense and played a spectacular defensive game.

The Wildcats played a great defensive game, the local team having failed to make a first down all during the game, but were ragged on the offense and the coaches were forced to make numerous substitutions. The visitors twice threatened the local goal but on each occasion were stopped by fumbles and offside penalties. Captain Shull and Frank Wynne were the most consistent ground gainers and Zachry, Felder, Bailes, Koch and Taylor starred on the defense.

A large crowd of Temple, students and fans accompanied their team.

Following is a play by play report of the game:

Score, Temple 0, Cameron 0.

Chevrolet Motor Man Visits Dealer Here

F. A. Hayden, representing the Chevrolet Motor Company of Texas, was in Cameron this week to spend a few days with Joe Middleton of the Cameron Chevrolet Company.

The Chevrolet Motor Company are large national advertisers and have placed a contract with the Cameron papers. The Cameron Chevrolet Company are large sellers of this popular car and the business here this year has been unusually good considering the conditions of the times.

IT gives us great pleasure to announce NO-NOX our new Motor Fuel. NO-NOX is the product of many months of exhaustive, scientific and chemical research by a staff of our own skilled chemists, infinite care being given to all details to insure the absolute perfection of NO-NOX Motor Fuel. Strenuous nights and days were spent in our thoroughly equipped laboratories by these scientists before NO-NOX Motor Fuel was perfected. Hard grilling road tests followed to develop any weakness overlooked in the laboratory, and we are now ready to offer the most efficient anti-knock fuel in the world.

Manufactured in one refinery under the same skillful supervision and from the same grades of crude, it is continuously uniform which means much in carburetion. When the carburetor is once properly adjusted it requires no further change—care should be taken to see that the mixture is not too rich as NO-NOX works best with a thin mixture, thus insuring economy. With NO-NOX, perfect combustion takes place at just the right position of the piston head which entirely does away with carbon knocks or motor detonation—promoting greater efficiency of the engine, smoother operation of the car on the road, in traffic, and especially on heavy grades.

This wonderfully efficient gas is guaranteed to be Non-Noxious, Non-Poisonous and no more harmful to man or motor than ordinary gasoline.

NO-NOX is priced only three cents per gallon higher than That Good Gulf Gasoline.

Drive to the nearest Gulf Service Station and try it out. It is readily distinguished by its color.

Household Suggestions

Mustard water will remove the unpleasant odor of fish, onions, etc., from the hands.

When windows are hard to open rub the crods with soft soap and tre ashes will run smoothly.

When auto tires have been discarded paint them white, fill with rich soil and place in strategic locations on the lawn. When flower's bloom in the summer they make very attractive little flower beds.

Dishes that have become brown or burned through baking in the oven can be easily cleaned if allowed to stand in borax water for a while.

If your linoleum gets torn, take a piece of heavy paper a little larger than the tear and smear it good with auto patch cement, also the torn edges of linoleum, put the paper on the wrong side of the linoleum and smooth down perfectly straight, put a weight on it to hold down until dry. The place will hardly be noticed and will wear well, even if it is a piece that's been completely torn out.

Here are fifteen different ways of serving the verstile tomato: Raw, sliced, dressed with vinegar and sugar or French dressing. Raw, sliced, quartered or petaled and served with mayonnaise; or raw combined with other vegetables in salad. Sliced dipped in crumbs and broiled, or dipped in batter and fried in deep fat. Baked whole. Hollowed out, stuffed with a seasoned preparation, meat or vegetables, and baked. Stewed with seasonings; seasoned and thickened; seasoned and thickened with bread crumbs. Cream of tomato soup. Cooked and sieved and added to seasoned gelatin. Tomato preserve. Tomato cooked, sieved, seasoned and frozen as a dinner ice.

Tomatoes stuffed with celery and ham—Five ripe tomatoes, four tablespoons diced celery, one-half cup cold ham, one-half cup salad dressing. Peel tomatoes, discard stem ends remove center pulp and mix with celery, ham and salad dressing. Refill tomatoes and place on lettuce leaf.

Date Muffins.

One third cup butter, one-quarter pound dates, three-quarters cup of milk, four teaspoons baking powder, one-quarter cup sugar, one egg, one and three-quarters cups of flour. Cream butter, add sugar and dates chopped fine. Add alternately egg, beaten and mixed with milk, and flour sifted with baking powder. Bake twenty minutes in hot oven.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Men who knew how to knot a white wash ascot necktie without spoiling the effect were much envied by other men.

The same men who are laughing at the baggy trousers worn today were putting their own on with a shoehorn.

A man carrying a bag of golf clubs on the street was followed by a crowd of curious small boys.

Collars were never high enough to please the smart young dressers.

College boys started their home-town friends by smoking huge pipes with curved stems.

Bike pants were the nearest thing to a knicker.

Two-piece balgriggan underwear comprised the approved perspiration blotter.

Safety razors were a vague experiment, the leading business men of every community gathered in the barbershops every morning and soap in the ear was practically unknown.

Silhouettes on window shades indicated that father and mother both wore nightgowns.

"Conferences" usually involved members of the firm only and were never called except in a crisis.

The Two Hours for Lunch Club was unthought of.

"Entertaining a customer" consisted of staying with him until the went to bed with his boots on.

A firm name over the door indicated that the owned could be found within.

Special courts to determine whether or not a merchant had a right to fail in business were unknown. A bust was a calamity and a bankrupt was admittedly broke.

Tennis was regarded as the pastime of masculine women and effeminate youths.

When business leaders failed they were generally regarded as "done for."

AS WE SEE IT

Anothers farm of crickets have invaded the town. This seems to be an annual event. For the last several years we have experienced the same thing and usually about this time of the year.

It is not an unusual sight to see the fair sex stepping gingerly along keeping their eyes well peeled for the "pesky things.' At intervals a squeal is heard along the way when a cricket tries to become too friendly or catch a free ride. These visitors are probably attracted by the lights in the town on their way to Cricket Land.

GREAT FAITH.

The members of the Christian Church are very happy over the results of their meeting, which closed Friday night. Their hopeful attitude and great Faith has certainly been evident during these late months. Having their church burned, leaving them without a place of worship, was even unfortunate for them. And, on top of this they had to face the long drouth that has made all rather pessimistic. But, they didn't back down and whine about their luck. They pulled together, planned a revival and were amply rewarded.

PEP UP A LITTLE!

What's wrong with our big, strong, husky boys? Has the jelly-bean fever gotten such a hold on them that they have forgotten their obligations to the community and school? Have they lost that old spunk and fighting spirit? Boys, why don't you go out for football? A little hard training won't hurt you and it might help make a better man of you. Afternoons spent in town around the street corner or riding around would be more luxurious than time spent out on the gridiron, but not so beneficial. Don't be discouraged if you don't make the first team or become a star right off the bat. It takes time, patience and hard work to accomplish success. And, now is a good time to take your knocks and learn that one big thing—'team work!'

America's Oldest Master Mason is Dead In Missouri

The grand father's chair in American Masonary is vacant.

Dr. Joseph Singer Halstead, oldest Freemason in the United States and possibly in the world, quietly passed away September 14 at the unusual age of 107, in Breckenridge, Mo., where he hung out his "M. D." shingle in 1860.

Dr. Halstead was raised to the degree of Master Mason in Lexington, Ky., in 1846, and at the time of his death was a member of Breckenridge Lodge No. 334, thus his Masonic tenure covered a span of eighty years! He is a native of Lexington, having been born there March 4, 1818.

For many years he was the family physician to Henry Clay and his family. To have been born while James Madison was President, to remember seeing Lafayette on his last visit to this country, to be the proud owner of land that had changed hands but four times, viz, King of Spain to Napoleon Bonaparte to the United States and thence to himself, to have been the oldest Freemason and oldest physician, having practiced for eighty-three years, to have known personally John C. Breckenridge, James B. Beck, Thomas F. Marshall and ex-Governor Charles A. Wycliff, of Kentucky, whose niece he married, were all honors that befell this dean of the American Masonic fraternity.

Firestone

Why Gum-Dipping is so Important to Car Owners

GUM-DIPPING—the Firestone extra process builds into tires extra quality by impregnating and insulating every fiber of every cord with rubber.

This exclusive method is carried out in special Gum-Dipping plants, after which the cords are put through the usual calendering process.

By this method, added strength and flexibility are imparted to the cords, making Gum-Dipped Balloons most serviceable and enduring over rough roads.

THREE CENTURIES AGO—

Francis Bacon, English statesman and writer, wrote in his essay on "Riches:"

"He that resteth upon gains certain, shall hardly grow to great riches; and he that puts all upon adventures doth oftentimes break and come to poverty. It is good, therefore, to guard adventures with certainties that may uphold losses," meaning, of course, that the only safe course to pursue is to diversify your investments, and the same holds good today, just as it did three centuries ago.

We can suggest a variety of safe investments, if you will consult us.

DREADFUL PAINS

This Lady Suffered Severely, Took Cardui, and Got Well.

Mrs. George S. Hunter, of Columbus, Ga., writes:

"I suffered with dreadful pains in my sides during . . . My side hurt so bad it nearly killed me. I had to go to bed and stay sometimes two weeks at a time. I could not work and I just dragged around the house.

"I got very thin—I went from 126 pounds down to less than 100. My mother had long been a user of Cardui and she knew what a good medicine it was for this trouble, so she told me to get some and take it. I sent to the store after it and before I had taken the first bottle I began to improve.

"My sides hurt less and I began to improve in health. . . The Cardui acted as a fine tonic and I do not feel like the same person. I am so much better. I am well now.

"I have gained 10 pounds and am still gaining. My sides do not trouble me at all.

"I wish every suffering woman knew about Cardui."

TEXAS FOOTBALL STARS TO MEET

Cotton Palace at Waco Will Present State's Leading Games.

Waco, Tex.—The moment the tang of a crisp fall air sets the nerves atingle, first thought of the man who follows sports is football. The management of the Texas Cotton Palace exposition, dates of which are October 24 to November 9, are sportsmen themselves, and it is always their first concern to see that a premier football menu is carded for their patrons.

Heading the Cotton Palace program—and that of the entire Southwest for that matter—is the colorful, thrilling, A. & M.-Baylor gridiron classic.

The institutions represented by the two teams who annually vie in this traditional battle are always represented by a football team that is well coached, well drilled in every art of the game, and which is over all imbued with a fighting spirit that calls forth real sacrifices before a decision is reached.

Few Walkaways.

Not in many years has there been a "walkaway" Baylor-A. & M. game. Past records count not a thing when these mighty gridiron armies face each other on the Cotton Palace field. Upsets are not unexpected.

This is the game that attracts the record crowds for the year's football games—the contests that sends loyal alumni from as far away as 1500 miles scurrying to Waco for just the one supreme football battle.

The unparalleled spirit exhibited by the student bodies of both institutions on the occasion—the frantic yells of the Baylor men and women—the systematic roar of the Aggies—the military demonstrations of the cadets—the stunts by the Baylorites—make the occasion more than a mere football game.

25,000 Crowds.

A crowd of 25,000 saw the game last year. Hundreds had to be turned away. Even standing room was at a premium. This year the Cotton Palace will construct tier upon tier of new seats especially for the game.

A. & M. day has ever been the attendance record-breaker for the Cotton Palace.

Nor is the Aggie-Baylor game the only gridiron classic which has been booked for the exposition this year. There will be two games between Waco High School—the Tigers—and other claimants for the Texas interscholastic championship.

Also Other Games.

Baylor will play several other games, each time with a team which represents the football strength of the Southwest.

The fighting, scrapping, Waco Tigers, twice state champions, and twice runner-ups for that honor, all within the past four years, give a football exhibition that never fails to impress the onlooker. Indications are that a stronger team than last year will take the field this season, this boding ill for those who would put in a bid for the championship.

As for Baylor—critic after critic has picked them as destined to be Southwestern champions for the second time within as many years. Last year's stars are back—nearly all of them—and those that are gone are made up by the husky, brainy youngsters who have come up from the Cub team.

WHOOPEE! WORLD'S PRIZE FORM COMING.

Waco, Tex.—A noted theatrical magazine last year offered a gold medal for the finest formed woman in the acrobatic world. Miss Sterling, the piece of attractive feminity in the Lohse and Sterling acrobatic act which comes to the Texas Cotton Palace this year, won the prize in a walkaway.

One of Miss Sterling's favorite stunts, when playing the very best vaudeville houses, like the Palace in Chicago, was to momentarily step in on one, first entrance, before the audience saw the apparatus, and just simply bow. That was enough, plenty—in the fraction of a second the audience rendered homage to class and shape—WOW!

Combine this million dollar look with the fact that she is an acrobat of the first class, and that she appears with one of the slickest, fastest, and neatest acrobats in the game and you have more than a feature act.

FRENCH ENVOYS HERE TO PRESENT DEBT PROPOSAL

PAYMENT TO UNITED STATES BELIEVED CERTAIN IN PARLEY.

Washington, Sept. 24.-- Documents which in effect constitute a French offer for settlement of that nation's 4 billion debt to the United States were submitted to the American debt commission Thursday at the first meeting of the American and French negotiators.

Although the character of the proposal was not made public, it was established to at least some members of the American commissioners it was not acceptable as drawn.

It was apparent that further trading would be necessary and there was no inclination in treasury circles to feel that an impasse had been reached.

The documents submitted were in form of statesment outlining France's general position, and as drawn, it brought immediate objection from a section of the American commission.

After an hour's joint meeting with French, the Americans held a seperate meeting and called another later in the day to continue consideration of the subject.

Headed by Finance Minister Joseph Caillaux, the French delegation entered the conference with a request that the negotiators go to work as practical men. Secretary Melion concurred in this sentiment but it was evident after the first meeting that considerable ground must yet be covered to get the two sides into agreement.

Our Work Remembered

France's position, stated by Caillaux, was that his country has not forgotten 'what we owe to America for her splendid work to end victoriously the war and for the generous help our people received from citizens of the United States."

Secretary Mellon declared he recognized the present conference may have on the peace of the wolrd and described the American desire and duty as one in the direction as a settlement that would be fair to all and, "in the practical test of time, workable."

Caillaux spoke briefly, explaining that the hope of the French was to reach a settlement that would not only be practical not only so far as material interests are concurred but one that would be worthy of the past of the two great Nations. He said the discussions between the two commissions should go farward in such a way as to fortify peace and help the economic stabilization in the world.

Meet Again Friday

The only official comment after the meeting that was contained in the exchange of remarks between M. Caillaux and secretary Mellon, both of whom expressed confidence that the proceedings would bring a satisfactory settlement.

Another meeting of the two missions will be held Friday afternoon after President Coolidge meets with his cabinet. At this meeting the American commissioners are expected to inform the French of their reactions to the data submitted.

M. Caillaux and his colleagues devoted part of the afternoon to a visit to the tomb of the unknown soldier in Arlington Cemetary and at night were guests of President Coolidge at a White House dinner.

If Back Hurts Begin on Salts

Flush Your Kidneys Occasionally by Drinking Quarts of Good Water

No man or woman can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Too much rich food creates acids which clog the kidney pores so that they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood. Then you get sick. Rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders often come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage, or attended by a sensation of scalding, begin to drink soft water in quantities; also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine.

This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to help neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer cause irritation, thus often relieving bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and can not injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, which everyone can take now and then to help keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby often preventing serious kidney complications. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

COLORED FARMERS OF MILAM HOLD MEET

FARMERS IMPROVEMENT SOCIETY ENCOURAGED BY ATTENDANCE.

Jones Prairie Texas, Sept. 26, 1925.

The Farmers Improvement Society of Milam county met at Harlan Chappell, near Jones Prairie at 10 o'clock a. m. Every one present was surprised at the attendance on the account of so many being absent in the cotton fields in other parts of the State. District and County Agent H. S. Estelle and J. H. Williams respectively addressed the meeting. Their speeches were enthusiastically received. They gave much wholesome advice.

At night the meeting was addressed by Rev. Rucker of Marlin, Texas. Rev. Rucker advised his people along the line of good citizenship.

County President G. W. Sledge in his closing address appealed to the farmers to stay where they are and try to make a better farmer than any one else. He said no land owner would replace a tenant as long as he was making money for him and was reliable. Sledge said he believed the drouth this year was a blessing in disguise for the negro. As so many foreigners had left here and would never return thus giving the colored man a chance to get him a good home and keep it as long as he did his duty. Failing to do this it would be a question of time when colored farmers would be displaced by foreigners. Sledge advised the wives and mothers to write their husbands and sons to work hard and study how to save their money and start over anew. Invest their money in the necessaries of life and stay where they are until they are able to buy a farm of their own as all good tenant farmers do.

Acting Secretary.

JACK TAYLOR HOLDS HIS OWN IN THE NOTRE GAME PLAYED THIS WEEK.

Jack Taylor has been successful in adding another "star to his crown." Last year he featured as Baylor's star track man. And this year he promises to become a gridiron hero. Jack came into his own in the Notre Dame game and this giant wing is due to be an outstanding star the remainder of the season. The Irish gave it up as a bad job in trying to circle Taylor for he knocked them sprawling every time they came toward him.

Jack was not allowed to join the gridiron squad last year on account of a bad leg. But, this year he is coming forth with all his stored up energy and pep. We are for you Jack, old boy, go to it.

SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy, hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray or streaked, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the mixture; you can get this famous old recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients at a small cost, all ready for use. It is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy and lustrous.
